

Staff News

During October 2006 two of our PADI divemasters undertook the PADI instructor development course and sat the PADI Instructor Exam.

Adam Aldred undertook his instructor development course (IDC) in Cyprus and successfully completed all of the requirements.

Dave Snape undertook his IDC at Capernwray dive site with his examination at Lancaster. Whilst the water was slightly cooler than that in Cyprus (15 degrees) the result was the same with Dave successfully completing the examination.

Both Adam and Dave are patiently waiting for their status within PADI to be upgraded to that of Open Water Scuba Instructor to allow them to start training other divers. We pass on our congratulations to both Adam and Dave and look forward to working with them in the future.

Forthcoming trips

Following the delay in diving with the seals off the Farne Islands in September due to severe weather conditions, Canary Divers have re-organised the trip to the Farne Islands on 18 & 19 November. Places are strictly limited due to availability on the boat and all enquiries should be made to info@canarydivers.com.

Dive Show 2006 News

Canary Divers joined one of our suppliers at the 2006 Dive Show in Birmingham working on the Northern Diver stand. As well as working hard selling NDiver equipment, Stuart shared some good ideas with other dive centres around the UK which will improve even further the level of customer service and opportunities available to our members and customers.

Website News

Regular visitors to the Canary Divers website will have noticed a few changes recently. Not only have we re-designed our home page to provide more information about our core values centred around customer service, but we have added a quick survey section. Each month we aim to provide new surveys which you can provide feedback to. Our October survey has been your favourite UK diving area. So far it looks like Scotland is a clear winner with over 70% of your votes with England and Wales tying for 2nd place.

Favourite UK Diving Area:

- England (14.8%)
- Northern Ireland (0.0%)
- Scotland (70.4%)
- Southern Ireland (0.0%)
- Wales (14.8%)

If you have a subject that you would like us survey then please email it to us at webmaster@canarydivers.com.

Christmas is coming!

Is it really that time again? Yes it is! By the time you read this newsletter Christmas will be less than 2 months away. This means that it's time to dust off your pen and paper and write your Christmas present list again including all of the latest diving gear and send it to Father Christmas. As you are probably aware, Father Christmas is very busy over the festive period so why not send your list to Canary Divers and see what we can do for you?

We are re-stocking our store and online store over the next month ready for Christmas. If there are particular gifts or pieces of equipment that you would like us to look into supplying then please contact us at sales@canarydivers.com.
